

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to an miniature actuator especially suitable for hearing aid applications. The actuator according to the present invention operates according to the 5 change in reluctance principle. In particular, the actuator according to the present invention operates in a balanced configuration comprising two planar coils, two magnets, a membrane and a spacer chip providing the necessary back chamber volume.

PUBLISHED